

SEEKING VOLUNTEERS

BECOME A DISASTER RESPONSE CRISIS COUNSELOR

A Disaster Response Crisis Counselor (DRCC) is a volunteer who works alongside local and state emergency response partners to respond to the needs of communities during disaster situations. DRCC's are trained in disaster response, disaster behavioral health and crisis counseling. Clinical mental health experience is not required.

Join first responders at emergency shelters and reunification centers after hurricanes, fires, public or mass shootings or terroristic events. Help connect those in need with higher levels of care and available resources. Sign up today!

- ✓ Assist Your Community
- ✓ Free Trainings
- ✓ Workforce Resources
- ✓ Hands-On Experience

To get started, contact:

Camden County's
Mental Health Administrator
(856) 374-6320 or patty.direnzo@camdencounty.com

camden  county

Making It Better, Together.

